HACKATHON: REIMAGINING THE FUTURE OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Universidad Camilo José Cela

ABOUT US

THE FUTURE OF HIGHER EDUCATION BY UNIVERSIDAD CAMILO JOSÉ CELA

UCJC is a private university, of the SEK Educational Institution based in Madrid, Spain. It was founded in 2000 and It has three faculties; Education, Health, Technology and Science.

The participants of this Hackathon are first year Primary and Preschool Education students, Larissa Ramos, Noemí López, Jimena de la Peña and Paula Guatteri. The English teacher, Fiona Mc Fall gave us access to the project

This project is designed to give people the same opportunities despite coming from different walks of life.

DEFINE the areas to focus upon

- Social and learning spaces to integrate people with different learning abilities different cultures , different sexual orientations, and different socio-economic status
- Lack of volunteerism and community involvement
- Lack of practical and sustainable models (in line with the United Nations sustainable development goals) of entrepreneurship models where the aforementioned points are identified and put into practice

HACKATHON RESOLUTION

“What does today’s university need to be better? What 3 things should it keep, 3 things should it add, and 3 things should it eliminate?”

Eliminate

- Outdated teaching models
- Inaccessible campus for people with disabilities
- Exorbitant university fees

Keep and encourage

- Volunteer programmes
- Sustainable campus
- Diversity and cultural awareness

FINAL CONCLUSIONS

THE FUTURE OF HIGHER EDUCATION BY “UNIVERSIDAD CAMILO JOSÉ CELA”

The university of the future needs to encourage more contact between students of all types, between students and professors, between students and the volunteer field in order to create more diverse, more social, more entrepreneurial and more humane university spaces.
